Passaround

From UPSB

To minimize the confusion of using multiple names for a single trick, or in this case a partial trick, the UPSB Naming Committee is encouraging the discontinued use of "Passaround" for describing half of a Fingeraround. Instead, it is encouraged to use the Fingeraround term. When used in a combo, the Interrupted Trick Notation should be used to describe the partial trick, as is the purpose of the notation.

Contents

Examples

Single trick

- Passaround Normal 23-12 = Middlearound Normal 0.5 23-12

Within a combo (informal notation)

- Sonic Normal 34-23 > Middlearound Normal 0.5 23-12 ~> NeoSonic Normal 12-T1

Within a combo (formal notation)

- Sonic Normal 34-23 > Middlearound Normal 23-12[p][s 0.5][c] ~ NeoSonic Normal 12-T1

Retrieved from "http://www.upsb.info/wiki/index.php/Passaround"

Categories: Naming conventions | Research Department

UPSB v3

Research Department Feedback / Passaround article released

https://upsb-v3.spin-archive.org/topic/4001

1. sketching
   Date: Sat, Feb 16 2008 20:00:24

   The Naming Committee has written and released an article to the UPSB wiki. This article explains the committee's stance on the term Passaround. Use this thread to discuss the article.

   Article:
   Passaround

2. 11Thrasher11
   Date: Sat, Feb 16 2008 22:18:59

   So no more Passaround then? We should always call em around .5s?

3. thig
   Date: Sun, Feb 17 2008 04:45:37

   It is encouraged to do so, yes.

4. K4S
   Date: Sun, Feb 17 2008 05:17:41

   Makes sense...so simple it almost makes you wonder why this wasn't changed earlier

5. Outsmash
   Date: Tue, Aug 12 2008 10:52:52

   Is'nt pass around.5 around the same as pass?

6. NaDa
   Date: Tue, Aug 12 2008 20:35:46

   no, since it is performed in the same way as an around. They look different.

7. Outsmash
   Date: Mon, Aug 18 2008 10:54:13

   QUOTE (NaDa @ Aug 13 2008, 02:05 AM)
   no, since it is performed in the same way as an around. They look different.

   They look almost similar........hardly a difference.

8. Rorix
   Date: Mon, Aug 18 2008 11:16:25

An around has the pen freely moving around a finger at part of the trick while a pass has the pen held with the fingers throughout the trick

9. Outsmash
   Date: Fri, Aug 22 2008 11:14:28

   QUOTE (Rorix @ Aug 18 2008, 05:46 PM)
   An around has the pen freely moving around a finger at part of the trick while a pass has the pen held with the fingers throughout the trick

   Mkes sense but like i said before "to me" it dosnt make much of a difference.